

Tim O'Brien

VICE PRESIDENT, COMMUNICATIONS, RIPLEY ENTERTAINMENT

Tim O'Brien has appeared in nearly 400 radio and television interviews during the last seven years, including "Good Morning America," "The Martha Stewart Show," "The Daily Buzz," "Montel Williams Show," "Art Bell Coast to Coast" radio, and "The Barry Farber" radio show. He has also appeared on The Travel Channel, The Discovery Channel and public television.

The 2001 recipient of the International Association of Amusement Parks and Attractions Lifetime Service Award, O'Brien served as a senior editor of the trade magazine Amusement Business for 18 years before joining Ripley Entertainment.

He has written 13 books including Ripley's Believe It or Not! Amusement Park Oddities and Trivia, Ripley's Believe It or Not! Baseball Oddities and Trivia, Ripley's Believe It or Not! Frog Oddities, and The Amusement Park Guide.

O'Brien has a Masters degree in journalism and film production from Ohio State University.